Re your presentation:

One command to rule them all: Introduction to Word macros

Dear Rhonda,

What a tour de force this presentation was! Thank you so much for taking the time to record it. Let's hope it can be used many times as I'm sure every Word user would benefit from seeing it, even those of us who use macros frequently.

In their feedback, many of our delegates expressed a similar view to this one:

When I read the summary for this topic, I thought: "I think I know that stuff reasonably well - but I know that Rhonda is so thorough in her approach, I suspect she will still add to my knowledge."

And am I glad I watched her presentation! She did indeed add to my knowledge - and the way she organised everything was valuable to see.

Another comment:

The very informative PDF is so valuable for a macro newbie like me.

The response to the following feedback questions were uniformly '5' (5=excellent):

How relevant was the session to you?

Did it add value to your professional development?

Was the content sufficient to gain an understanding of the topic to be used in a practical sense?

Of course, everyone said Yes to this:

Would you would like to see more on this topic or more of this presenter?

Thank you so much for helping to make our conference really worthwhile. I hope you might consider presenting again next year.

Best regards,
